

It's not just a house. It's your home.
Be sure with the shield.

Have a plan for your home.

For more than 45 years, homeowners have relied on American Home Shield® Home Warranties to help protect their homes and give them peace of mind.

We cover components of major home systems and appliances that break down over time — regardless of their age. This helps pay for the costs of repair or replacement, so you can focus on all the little moments in your new home that matter most.

Keep the focus on making your house a home, not on inevitable household breakdowns.

Getting coverage with American Home Shield is easy — and using your plan is even easier. When a covered system or appliance breaks down, go online or call us any time to request service.

You'll pay your Trade Service Call Fee (TSCF) — the amount you pay per trade (plumbing, electrical, etc.) for each service request — and we'll assign a local contractor to find out what's wrong and get you back up and running.

Here's how it works:

Your faucet broke, but that's okay. You have American Home Shield.

Request service online or by phone and pay your Trade Service Call Fee.

An approved contractor from our network will repair or replace your covered item.

If your repair fails within 30 days, we'll send the contractor back out for no additional cost.
